AWARDS

Fellowships and Conference Awards

Institute for Humane Studies

Humane Studies Fellowship

2019-Present

The Humane Studies Fellowship is a non-residency, renewable award to assist students enrolled or planning to enroll in full-time PhD programs. Humane Studies Fellows not only gain financial aid, but also connect with IHS and our network of scholars working to advance classical liberal ideas in the academy. This includes access to academic advising and invitations to our career development seminars, research workshops, discussion colloquia, and other networking events.

International Foundation for Research in Experimental Economics

Graduate Student Workshop

2020

The International Foundation for Research in Experimental Economics graduate student workshop introduces selected graduate students to concepts in laboratory experimental economics and provides graduate students with the opportunity to earn cash payments by participating in laboratory experiments. Additionally, students have the opportunity to interact with experts in the field through lectures and a colloquium discussion.

Institute for the Study of Religion, Economics and Society at Chapman University

Graduate Student Workshop

2019

The Institute for the Study of Religion, Economics and Society workshop provides two days of intensive instruction, interaction, and feedback for a select group of graduate students. Each student must have a completed paper, and all papers will be circulated and studied in advance. Sessions will center on presentations and discussion, with professors and students giving detailed feedback on each paper.

Association for Research on Nonprofit Organizations and Voluntary Action

Millesen Doctoral Fellow

2018

The Millesen Doctoral Fellows Seminar is an interdisciplinary award for Ph.D. students who have passed their comprehensive exams but have not yet defended their dissertation proposals. Students present and discuss their proposals in progress with faculty members in various fields studying non-profit organizations and charitable activity. The workshop is held the day prior to ARNOVA's annual conference.

Association for the Study of Religion Economics and Culture

Introduction to the Economics of Religion Workshop

2018

The Introduction to the Economics of Religion workshop provides selected graduate students the opportunity to immerse themselves into the field by interacting with experts and pioneering researchers in the discipline. The workshop is held the day prior to ASREC's annual conference.
