Comments Report

1. Background Questions

1.7) Considering your selections above, please comment on your experience in this course.

- Although I primarily took this class to fulfill the requirements of my major, Professor Oxley has been a joy. As for the effort one must take to be successful in this class, as long as one reads through the slides and pays attention in class (alongside going through the practice problems provided through Cengage), they should do well. The Economics in the Real World really help connect course content to reality, and are rather simple to do if one just puts in the effort.
- Dr. Oxley is a good guy who cares about his teaching. However sometimes he goes on tangents and loses sight of the material. He also is hard to follow sometimes. But for the most part I enjoyed his class and the material he presented. He did a good job connecting the class to the real world.
- Dr. Oxley was my microeconomics professor and he did a very good job with this course. I enjoy his teaching style and the way he explains the content.
- Enjoyed the course a lot learned lots of valuable concepts
- I chose this course specifically because I took Microeconomics with Dr. Oxley in the past and felt I gained a lot from the way he runs his class. I have had a very good experience in this course, the content is covered in a very useful way and the instructor does a good job of ensuring students are keeping up in class and offers a lot of positive reinforcement.
- I did really enjoy this class and learning about macro. I wish there was a bit more participation from students as it was a very lecture heavy class. I appreciate the opportunities for extra credit!
- I enjoyed Professor Oxley's instruction and class structure.
- I heard Oxley gave opportunities to get points back on exams and that's something that I felt could be beneficial, additionally some of my friends had taken him in the past and they had good reviews.
- I took this class for my major and because I had Dr. Oxley for Microeconomics. I chose to take ECON 1312 with Dr. Oxley because I enjoyed the last class I took with him and the structure of the class makes a lot of sense. The class is not very difficult if you do all the homework and writing assignments, there is extra credit available, and we can get points added back on our exams. The workload is light and clearly outlined on the syllabus so it is easy to keep up with all the work.
- I took this class to satisfy the curriculum that all business majors must take and I had Professor Oxley for microeconomics and I figured I would take him again for macroeconomics.
- I've had a really good time in this course, and I'm so glad I was able to take Macro with Dr. Oxley. He is a super sweet professor and his class is awesome.
- It's required, but I also need to learn these concepts now.
- My roommate took Dr. Oxley for Micro and spoke highly of him so that's why I chose to take him.
- Professor Oxley is very nice and always willing to help students. He really supports and cares for his students.
- The Professor was amazing and understanding and taught the lessons in a way that was informative and made sure to be there for his students if they had any questions
- The structure of the class is very enticing and one of the reasons I chose to take it
- This class was not too difficult in my opinion but I still felt like I learned a lot of important information that will be useful to me for the rest of my college career and adult life.
- This course gave me a great understanding of the fundamentals of macroeconomics.
- This is a difficult course due to the nature of the course however it can be managed.
- Very good, I like the teacher a lot, and the course grading %'s are good and fair. Nothing will kill your grade, you can always improve it.
- I have taken Oxley's class before this semester and it was a positive experience and it was again a very positive experience. He is well prepared and lectures and lessons are well thought out

2. ECONOMICS DEPARTMENT STUDENT COURSE EVALUATION

2.4) Please comment on your answers to questions 2.1, 2.2, and 2.3.

- A few times, multiple-choice questions were not covered in lectures or notes.
- All are true, the instructor communicates his available hours consistently and could almost always be reached through email quickly.
- Always responds to my emails very fast and within a timely manner.
- Dr. Oxley comes to class prepared and we almost always stick to doing what the syllabus says. Evaluation on exams is clear and helpful, it shows what you did wrong. He was available for office hours and responds to emails.
- Dr. Oxley does a good job of communicating and being a fair professor. He is also very understanding and easy to talk to.
- Dr. Oxley is a great professor! He truly aims to support and help his students throughout his course. He is very accessible outside of the classroom and a great mentor overall.
- Dr. Oxley is a great teacher who keeps his students engaged throughout the class. Students learn, and Dr. Oxley is fun and engaging.
- Dr. Oxley is normally prompt at answering emails (within 24 hours), but sometimes is not able to answer urgent questions. He holds regular office hours.

The evaluation of tests is very objective, but the evaluation of papers is very subjective, and Dr. Oxley never gives a straight answer of why points were taken off. Sometimes it seems as though he is looking for ways to mark off points from students on the essays.

While he always has a class plan, his plan always consists of reading off a slideshow. Which is fine, but it's just boring.

- Dr. Oxley is very prepared. He is very fair when it comes to grading, and he is always available outside of class. He's a real cool guy, very understanding as long as you put in the time.
- Gives feedback in exams
- Gives opportunities for extra credit and his exam reviews are very helpful
- Great feedback was given to me by the instructor and responses were very fast if I reached out.
- He answers his emails regularly and gets work back in a timely manner
- His slides are very put together and have all the information you need to know. Feedback on exams and papers was always constructive. He always answered any questions or email in a timely manner.
- I felt the class was kind of all over the place, his lectures felt like sometimes he was doing them just to get them done and stay on track rather than teach us. But grading he was always fair, constructive and explained where you went wrong.
- Profesor grades reasonably and allows you to learn the content further by correcting those mistakes through his drawbacks
- Professor Oxley is always prepared for his lectures, and is ready to answer questions whenever they arise, while also checking to make sure that everyone is moving along at the same pace.
- Seemed pretty well prepared for most part very few times where seemed in-between what to do towards end of class period.
- The Professor was accessible at all times and was helpful and also always well prepared and on time for all of his classes
- The semester was planned out from the start on the syllabus and Professor Oxley shows us what we do wrong exams and gives good feedback on assignments.
- We usually got back important tests and papers sometimes as late as a month later. Other than that anytime I had a question or needed something from Dr. Oxley he was always available and very helpful.

2.7) Please comment on your answers to questions 2.5 and 2.6.

- Although economics is an academic subject that I'm not particularly interested in, Professor Oxley manages to make the subject interesting and engaging, and I've certainly learned much regarding macroeconomics in this course.
- Can use what I learned in this course and apply it elsewhere
- I feel like I have learned a few key concepts to macroeconomics and have developed greater knowledge of world markets.
- I have to or else I'd fail. There are some concepts that go over my head, but once reviewed and discussed by Dr. Oxley I'd always feel better.
I have learned a lot

- I learnt a great deal in this course and it enabled me to look at things from a more macro perspective
- I've had some trouble with macro because I am not the most economically inclined, but Dr. Oxley does a good job of breaking down concepts and using videos and graphs to explain what is happening.
- The NPR news printout at the start of some of the classes was interesting to see macroeconomics in real-time.
- The content of the class is very interesting and the class is organized in a way that none of it piles up too much.
- The first third of the course was very similar to micro, but after we got past the first few chapters I enjoyed learning the new content.
- The high quantity of homework assignments really helped me to learn in this class.
- The homework is by far the most helpful part of this class, as it forces me to apply the concepts from the slideshows instead of just reading about them.
- The homework's are definitely challenging, but if I'm being honest, I haven't retained much. I feel like when it comes to the test I'm teaching myself everything just to get by and then forget all of it after.
- The lectures include questions for the class to answer as we go through the slides to help us understand the concepts. Homework lets us further practice the ideas and economics in the real world writing assignments give us the chance to connect what we are learning in class to things that are happening in the real world. We cover many topics in the class.
- The papers that we wrote allowed me to use critical thinking with the course material and apply it to the real world, which I think is very important to understanding concepts.
- This course was difficult, the pace of lectures and covered material was generally faster and hard to follow along with at times. However, material is covered in detail, it is just at times at a pace that is hard to follow not having great knowledge in the course/content coming in.
- i have learned a lot and the economics in the real world really pushes this analytical thinking

2.10) Please comment on your answers to questions 2.8 and 2.9.

- Always willing to help.
- As mentioned, the instructor is organized and the course is very well structured, he pays attention to the level of engagement in the class and responds based off of that. He also goes above and beyond by explaining and breaking down the real world events that are related to class content.
- Despite having an A in the class, I don't feel like I know the material or could explain what I've learned in this class, which makes me nervous for any classes that expand upon the concepts in this course.
- Dr. Oxley is an effective teacher because outside of class lectures, there are many opportunities and assignments that help us fully grasp the concepts. He gives a lot of extra credit and is very understanding.
- Enjoyed the course, instructor keeps it interesting
- Honestly, Dr. Oxley is a great teacher and you can tell that he is very genuine.
His lectures are interesting and I love how he explain things in real world terms.
I wouldn't change anything. the man has a bright future and I'm not biased because I can only get an A in the class if I do extremely well on the final, which I do not see happening. Even though I wish my grade was better, I can appreciate Dr. Oxley's efforts. If I had less classes, I'd most likely be able to have done a little better. So everything that was in Dr. Oxley's hands, he handled with diligence.
I would 100% recommend Oxley.
Anyone who says otherwise was definitely just playing on their computer every lecture :)
- I came into Trinity not wanting to take any economics classes because of my experiences in high school. Dr. Oxley really made my economics learning experience enjoyable. The content is spread out evenly each class and he does a good job adding videos and memes that are relevant to the course content. He prepares students well for the exams with a short answer review. The homeworks can be tedious at times and contain content that isn't needed for the exam but overall this class is very good and Dr. Oxley deserves a raise.
- I didn't particularly enjoy the class, as I've touched on the fast pace lectures are very constructive for how I learn. It's obvious that Dr. Oxley cares a lot and wants us all to do well and understand, which I appreciate, but sometimes I feel like he's all over the place or teaching at a pace/level higher than what we're capable of and it makes it challenging to really learn the material
- I enjoyed this course and would recommend Professor Oxley to other students and would also be taking more of his classes in the future should he be available! Thank you
- I really appreciated how the instructor was very flexible.
- I'm really happy I took this course with Dr. Oxley and I would highly recommend it to other students. I think as he continues to teach he will only get better and I appreciate the time I spent with him. He's also super funny which lightens up the class.
- If anyone was ever confused he would give examples and try to explain the concept in another way. He would also stop along the way and ask for questions which was a nice pause to gather the information.

- Overall, a great course. I would take another course with Dr. Oxley!
- Professor Oxley always takes care to make sure the class understands the course content.
- Professor has a passion for teaching and is very helpful and accommodating to students -very positive experience
- Sometimes I felt like we were going a little too fast during lecture for me to take decent notes and at times it was hard to process what was trying to be taught because we were speeding through things but other than that I feel very satisfied with what I learned in this class.
- Sometimes rambles about unimportant topics but goes over the slides well
- This course is pretty cut and dry and Professor Oxley does a good job of preparing you for the exams.
